Introduction

The following document provides a general overview of how reporting is carried out through the Engenuity Solution. It is necessary to have an excellent grasp on data flow in order to build reports as well as understand how the application data connects the user to the goals of the client as well as the goals of those contracts that fund the various activities for the client.

This document is for those System Administrators whose job it is to set up and report on the various tasks entered into the application to funders, government agencies, etc. - as well as other users throughout the agency in order to better depict how the agency is running as a whole.

Overview of Reports

There are three different report types used in the application: Application, Management and Ad Hoc reporting.

Application reports – Case Notes Report

- Application reports run from within the system typically for one record at a time (e.g., a printout of an application or a list of Services recorded for the client).
- Application reports are accessed by a right-click menu on various pages in the system, often the Program Entry page and the Listings page within the Services section.

Management reports – Agency Customer 1/1/2009-1/26/2009

- Management reports either mimic federal reporting (HMIS APR, Head Start PIR, CSBG Section G, etc.) or answer critical questions for non-profit organizations and their funders.
- Management reports usually require the entry of run time parameters used to filter the data.

Ad Hoc reports – 50Fields List - vADHOCDemographics - Listing

- Ad Hoc reports are reporting templates where the user dictates which fields are used in reporting. They allow greater flexibility to ask the questions you want to ask of the data.
- Ad Hoc reports are customized reports based on a specific set of data fields specified by the user.

Enterprise System Overview

System Configuration

The following diagram provides an overview of the system configuration.

Engenuity is a Microsoft .Net web based technology that can interface with most of the popular database engines (MySQL, MS SQL Server, and Oracle). The following is a brief description of the system configuration:

Application Server

The application server can be divided into two separate services. Both services can reside on a single application server or be distributed among multiple servers. Note: the Domain Service utilizes minimal additional resources ONLY during client logon activities.

Domain Service

The application domain service provides authentication to insure proper security validation to include user access to application services within the local complex. It also manages load balancing for optimum performance by assigning users to the most underutilized application server.

Application Service

Manages all functional and database communications between the AESclient Browser and all other servers (Application, Database, Reporting) within the system complex.

Database Server

Typically most ES application implementations separate the enterprise database (client data) from the system configuration database (design data). This greatly simplifies system maintenance. In addition to the above database there are a number of Enginuity maintenance tools that are also installed on this server.

Replication Server

The Replication Server provides an additional dedicated resource for processing CPU intensive operations for reports. In addition to the real-time data streaming from the Database Server, the Replication Server also carries out the process of flattening selected data to improve the performance of the Adhoc Reporting on the system.

Log-shipping Server

The Log-shipping Server receives automatic incremental updates on the database and the transaction log files from the Production Database Server at a preset interval. In the event of a down Production Database Server, the Log-shipping Server can be promoted from a standby server to the Production Database Server.

Reporting Server

The Reporting Server provides a dedicated resource for processing CPU intensive operations for reports. Although these services could be performed on one of the Application Servers, experience has shown that failure to offload such tasks (separate server) can result in intermittent performance problems during peak reporting.

Report Service

Enginuity provides an integrated reporting web service leveraging Microsoft's universal report template editor. It supports on demand and scheduled report delivery in most of the industry standard file formats.

Report Publishing

The Standard Application, Management and Adhoc Reports constitute the inventory of all developed reports. The Report Publisher is a utility tool used to select individual reports and upload and register these reports with the Report Server as well as with the Application Server.

Report Security and Permission

Security Wizard and Security Manager

Security for reporting is created in both Security Wizard and Manager. Reports are added to a collaborative site with Security Wizard; access to individual reports is added to Organizations and specific Groups within the Organization with Security Manager. Only the System Administrator or Agency Administrator can grant the rights to view and create reports.

Report Data Security

Standard Parameters
UserID	Corresponds to the UserID running the report
GroupID	Corresponds to the GroupID of the UserID running the report

Standard Report Security Columns
	Linking Table	Replacement Column	Alias
SecurityID	User.ResourceID	UserID	SecurityID
SecurityGroupID	UserGroup.ResourceGroupID	GroupID	SecurityGroupID
SecurityProgram
SecurityOrgID
SecurityRegionID
SecurityMode

Standard Report Security Filtering – SQL Security Signature Filter

((SecurityMode = 'System')

OR

((SecurityMode = 'Region') AND (SecurityRegionID IN (SELECT RegionID FROM Resource WHERE UserID = @UserID)))

OR

((SecurityMode = 'Organization') AND (SecurityOrgID IN (SELECT OrgID FROM Resource WHERE UserID = @UserID)))

OR

((SecurityMode = 'Private') AND (SecurityGroupID = @GroupID AND SecurityID = @UserID)

OR

((SecurityMode = 'Group') AND (SecurityGroupID IN (SELECT GrantorGroupID FROM dbo.vGroupPermission WHERE GranteeGroupID = @GroupID))))

Adhoc Report Standard Tables

---

The following tables list and compare the items available in the standard Adhoc views/tables. All View names start with vADHOC and include the words listed below. Find the view you want to learn more about in the chart below, the Table will list all items included in that view; you will be able to compare it to similar views to find the one that best meets your needs.
